

Dear Parents,

May has arrived, and that means that the end of the school year is near. Our classes has grown so much in so many ways this year, but we still have much to learn and do during the month of May!

May is a time of exploring nature's treasures and observing the cycle of life of butterflies and living things. We will talk about safety in park and on bicycle.

The Red and Blue classes will finish the unit on letters and numbers. It will be time to play with letters by recited them and put them in order. Also, they will categories and sort all kind of living things from the jungle, forest and farm animals, insects and plants.

Date to remember for May:

5 :	Graduation Photo
10 :	Brown Day
10 :	Butterflies arrives today
20 and 21:	No school
24:	Victoria Day no school
26:	Releasing butterflies
28 and June 1:	Crazy Hat Day

Have a nice and safe springtime,

Madame Claudette
